Jeremy Connell

freelance Key Grip

I have spent the last ten years in the technical departments of the film industry. I have extensive practice in the operation and maintenance of most systems and equipment required to support all formats of film-making and prodution This includes a strong analytical understanding of new technologies being employed in film-making.
In the last five years in Dubai I have established strong relationships with technical crews and production personal from many of the leading companies in the local film industry whilst cultivating new alliances with leading international crew on the major feature films I have worked on.
I hope to leverage my experience and connections into the Abu Dhabi market to push the region into a leading player in both the local and international film industries
